

It's all down to fine art

The big names will be there – and it's all for a good cause. The seventh annual Art Salon at the Bay Hotel, curated and presented by art consultant Rose Korber, will run from December 6 to December 17 from 10am to 10pm.

Paintings, drawing, original prints, sculpture, ceramics, beadwork and pewter table-art by about 75 leading contemporary South African artists will be displayed.

Exhibitors include William Kentridge, who has been invited to exhibit at the Museum of Modern Art in New York, Willie Bester, Deborah Bell, Norman Catherine, Sam Nhlengethwa, Nina Romm, Louis Jansen van Vuuren, Zwelethu Mthethwa, John Kramer, Francine Scialom Greenblatt, Robert Slingsby, Wendy Anziska and Paul Blomkamp.

Ceramics will include works by the Ardmore Studio, Barbara Jackson, Andrew Walford, Ian Garrett, Clementina van der Walt, Barry Dibb, Rodney Blumenfeld, John Kasozu Matovu, Charmaine Haines and Karin Sinovich.

Woven baskets and exotic telephone wire baskets from Kwazulu Natal and a range of painted wooden sculpture and beaded objects from Venda will also feature.

All the works are for sale. Ten percent of the proceeds will be donated to the South African National Gallery so that it can acquire new art works and continue its education programme.
